U. P. SHOPMEN GO OUT ON A STRIKE

They went on strike. They base their estimate on the number of men who passed through the four gates from 10 until 11 o'clock, the last named hour being the one that recorded the end of the exodus. They also say that this is about 40 per cent of the entire shop force. They figured on about this number quitting after the last roll of the men was made about three weeks ago.

Number of Men Out.
It was announced by the officials that in the coach department thirty-six to 110 men had walked out. In the wheel department the entire force of sixteen had remained at work, that the entire fifteen in the cabinet department had stayed at their labors and that 200 of the 25 machinists had walked out. It was stated that Grand Island ninety-five out of 136 had walked out and that at Sidney six of forty-two had walked out.

As the men left the shops and the grounds there was no demonstration of any kind. At the gates there was the usual exchange of adieus, such as is heard every Saturday afternoon when the men quit work for the week.

Veterans Disregard Order.
A large majority of the various craftsmen who have gone out of the Union Pacific shops are under a middle age. The older men and those with families, it is said by the company officials and admitted by many of the workmen, have remained loyal to their work and have refused to join the ranks of those who are out.

So far as the railroad officials were concerned, the walkout, to all appearances, treated no more commotion than if they had been quitting for the night. Not even did they leave their seats in the administration building on the grounds to watch the procession move by. If the company has plans relative to filling the places of the men now out they are not taking the public into their confidence. They merely state that they will wait awhile, giving the men a chance to come back. It is understood that this "awhile" means within a reasonable time, probably at any date next week. Until the time to be fixed arrives, the men may come back without having lost any of their rights, or their seniority in the matter of continuous service. However, if they do not return to work within the time to be fixed later, in the event they should again seek to enter the employ of the company they will be considered as new men.

One Painter Quits.
Of the seventy-six painters employed, one walked out. The painter is a member of the Omaha local and unorganized so far as the federation is concerned. In the event they should go on strike it will be because they are called out on the order of the officers of the local.

It is said that there are forty-three boilermakers and that none of them responded to the strike order. Whether or not they will quit work depends upon what action is taken by the local with which they are affiliated.

Mass Meetings Planned.
Saturday morning, when the men walked out of the shops, it was planned to hold two mass meetings at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. However, during the day a change was made in the arrangements and at the appointed hour the majority of them gathered at Wolfe's hall. Twenty-second and Cuming streets, where the strike situation was discussed behind closed doors and their information was given out that no action of any kind had been taken, aside from urging the men to stand firm and not weaken in their efforts to secure recognition of the federation union of the five crafts, carmen, machinists, blacksmiths, boilermakers and steam fitters.

The entire time of the meeting was given over to speeches, all were mild, but firm in tone, the speakers advising all of the men to refrain from congregating about the shop grounds, or in any way interfering with the management, or control of company property.

At the meeting it was stated that probably one or two of the international officers of the federation and several of those representing the mid-west division would arrive in the city not later than Monday, and that upon their arrival they would take complete control of the entire situation so far as the men were concerned. Until the arrival of these men, it was stated that nothing would be done other than to keep the employees lined up and perhaps visit some of the shop employees who failed to obey the strike order, with a view to inducing them to quit. It was advised and insisted that if an attempt should be made to take the men remain away from the shops only moral suasion should be used.

All of the speakers took the position in the demand for the recognition of the federated union, that they were in the right and that in the end they would win.

Awaits International Officers.
It was urged that a publicity committee be named in order that the press might be kept informed as to the progress being made in carrying on the strike, but after considerable discussion, it was deemed advisable to wait until the international division officers arrive and a consultation is held with them.

The figures showed that most of the old men had remained in the shops and that the boilermakers had continued at work, for the reason that up to the time when the other men went out, they had not received notice to quit.

With reference to the painters, it was proposed that they be seen and that an effort be made to induce them to quit their work and become affiliated with the federation.

Reports received from Council Bluffs indicated that there forty-five men had obeyed the strike order, divided nearly equally between the Union Pacific and the Illinois Central, both being roads of the Harriman system.

Old Men May Remain.
The question of the old men was taken up and it was practically decided that those who are nearing the pension period in their employment, be permitted to continue at work, in the event they desire so to do, the argument being advanced that in the event the strikers should lose, these old men, on account of their advanced years, could never hope to secure employment in the Union Pacific, or other shops.

Company officials made no attempt to confer with the men during the day or last night. They transacted the regular business of the week-end and at 1 o'clock closed their offices for the day, as is the custom on Saturday. Nothing relative to the strike will be done by these officials. Everything awaits the return of President Mohler, who is now on his way home from New York. He is expected here Monday morning, when it is expected he will take charge of and direct the company's end of the controversy.

Not even the shop grounds have been policed, as no trouble of any kind was anticipated. The usual guards were on duty Saturday and Saturday night, making their rounds as is their custom, but their services were not needed, as everything about the grounds was as quiet as the grave.

ORDER IS GENERALLY OBEYED

Union Officials Have Reports that Twelve Thousand Are Out.
CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Reports up to this afternoon indicated that the order for a strike by shopmen on the Illinois Central railroad and Harriman lines set for 10 a. m. had been obeyed generally by the men. With many of the points at which large numbers of men are employed not heard from, approximately 12,000 men in the chief cities were known to have left their work at that hour, to enforce their demands for recognition of their Federation of Shop Employees.

Early reports from the Pacific coast indicated that the men were ready to obey the order. The number of men who walked out in the chief cities was:
Chicago, 1,750; Omaha, 43; Denver, 175; East St. Louis, 56; New Orleans, 2,000; Kansas City, 10; San Antonio, 50; Victoria, 60; Memphis, 1,200; Houston, 1,500; Dallas, 50; Mobile, Miss., 1,000; Los Angeles, 1,400; San Francisco, 400.
At no place was the walkout accompanied by violence.

GRAND ISLAND MEN GO OUT

Four-Fifths of the Shop Employees Quit at Ten O'clock.
GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 30.—(Special Telegram)—Practically every skilled mechanic in the Union Pacific shops, including the carmen who look after the icing and watering of passenger trains, walked out of the shops at 10 o'clock this morning. The total pay roll last month was approximately 230 men. Two hundred of these ceased work, representing a monthly pay roll of about $30,000. Of the fifty remaining the greater portion are Greeks and Austrians working on the coal chutes, etc. Some few helpers remained, and in the car shops a few of the older men, whose remaining was, it appears, with the approval of the greater majority of younger and middle-aged mechanics. There was not the least sign of disorder. The strikers openly avowed a friendly feeling for the local officers. Some of them expressed the hope as they bade good-bye to the heads of departments that the contention would be settled amicably. Twenty minutes later passenger trains were slightly delayed at the depot, only two men of the icing and watering force remaining and section men put on the job. Locally no steps seem to have been taken to replace the men.

WESTERN SHOPMEN ARE OUT

Few of the Older Employees Remain at Work.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—While definite figures are not forthcoming as yet from either side the strike order for the shop employees of the Harriman system, which became effective at 10 o'clock this morning, appears to have been generally obeyed. A few of the old employees at the various shops remained at work, but the great majority of the men quietly packed their tools when whistles announced 10 o'clock and walked out of the yards. There was no disturbance at any point, and the striking men did not linger about the yards.

Railroad officials reiterate their prediction that service will not be crippled. Union officials have little to say beyond the statement that the men have held together and generally obeyed the strike order.

All the California shops heard from, including Los Angeles, Oakland, Sacramento and Fresno, were promptly abandoned. At Oakland the switchmen went out in sympathy.

Woman's Happiness

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an oily emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes. Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores.
